OUR FOCUS IS TO HELP EVERY STUDENT SUCCEED, AND THAT HASN'T CHANGED IN ALMOST 50 YEARS.

Education is what we do best. We'll not only train you for a career as a health care professional, we can also help you grow as a person.

Carrington College has a rich history that dates back to 1967 with the founding of Northwest College of Medical Assistants and Dental Assistants in Sacramento, California. By 1969 the name was changed to Western College of Allied Health Careers, and in 1983 the college was purchased by Education Corporation of America (EdCOA). Known thereafter as Western Career College (WCC), in 2001 WCC attained accreditation by the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (ACCJC/WASC). In 2005, the campuses of Silicon Valley College became part of WCC.

Meanwhile, in 1976 Apollo College was founded by Margaret M. Carlson in Phoenix, Arizona, to prepare graduates for careers in skilled professions. Apollo College attained accreditation by the Accrediting Council for Independent Colleges and Schools (ACICS) in 2007.

US Education Corporation acquired both Apollo College and EdCOA in late 2003, bringing the two complementary but independent systems to a shared parent organization. That year, US Education also acquired American Institute of Health Technology, Inc.'s Boise, Idaho school, and subsequently changed its name to Apollo College, Boise. In 2008, DeVry Education Group acquired US Education Corporation, with Apollo and WCC's certificate and associate degree programs adding to DeVry Group's diverse system of postsecondary offerings.

Apollo College and Western Career College were renamed Carrington College and Carrington College California, respectively, in 2010. In July 2014, Carrington College California received approval to include the Carrington College campuses under its institutional accreditation by the ACCJC/WASC, with centralized leadership for all locations. Soon afterward, Carrington College California was renamed Carrington College. Carrington College currently has locations operating in Arizona, California, Idaho, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Texas and Washington.

SOME COLLEGES GRADUATE STUDENTS, WE GRADUATE PROFESSIONALS.

To keep students engaged, we balance our curriculum between class lecture time and activity-based learning.

Many of our programs combine traditional classroom learning with exciting, hands-on simulation training before adding real-world working experience through our externship programs.

Your education is an investment in your future. While you are here, you'll be expected to work hard, attend class regularly, complete every assignment on time, and follow our dress code – just as professionals are asked to do. To help you succeed, we offer an online library, a Student Success Center, Wi-Fi access on our campus, and plenty of staff support. At Carrington College, we believe there's no better teacher than the Carrington experience!

THE HIGHER OUR ACADEMIC STANDARDS, THE HIGHER OUR STUDENTS SOAR.

We can teach you what it takes to become a successful professional.

At Carrington, our high academic standards and real-world curriculum are designed to prepare you for a career in your chosen field.

We want to build your confidence through experience to put you in the best possible position to achieve your career goals.

Carrington College is an accredited* institution, which can help in your ability to receive financial aid and employment opportunities. In fact, many of our individual programs at certain locations are accredited because they meet or exceed the set standards of quality for educational programs in specific professions.

STUDENTS WHO ARE PREPARED
AS A PROFESSIONAL
ARE BETTER EQUIPPED TO BECOME ONE.

We have the tools, technologies and training facilities that simulate what it's really like to work in your chosen field.

Our students are trained using the tools and technologies of their future career in real-world situations. No matter what your program of study, you can work in a simulated environment wherever possible to help you understand what it takes to succeed in that field.

For example, some programs feature our SimLink™ Experience*. This incredibly realistic simulation of a fully functional hospital floor comes complete with computerized mannequins that simulate human responses. There's even an animal simulator for students in our Veterinary Assisting program. In addition to real-life re-creations, it's also equipped with a viewing gallery with flat screen TVs so students can watch and learn as their classmates work.

Additionally, some of our campuses even offer clinics for patients that provide care in areas, such as dental hygiene, physical therapy, and more.

Learning by doing is a big part of the Carrington experience. Here, you don't just get an education, you get a head start on experiences that can shape your career.
